Special Offers...

As a business owner, it only makes sense to watch how you use your financial resources. That is why I feel it is a wise investment to provide past attendees with the financial incentive to spread the word. You will have three ways to earn a portion of my paid speaking fees based on the level of your involvement.

Finder's Fee:

You will earn 10% of my paid speaking fee for any program that you directly refer my way. Simply email me about the event and who the contact person is (and your relationship to that person) and you are on your way to a finder's fee.

Agent's Fee:

You will earn 15% of my paid speaking fee for any program that you are in a position of hiring a speaker, or securing a breakout session/workshop. If you are serving on a committee, this fee can be paid back to the organization in the form of financial support or simply discounted from the final contract fee. Simply email me about your event and who the contact person is (and your relationship to that person) and you are on your way to an agent's fee.

Publicist's Fee:

You will earn 20% of my paid speaking fee for any program that you are the sole decision maker regarding the hiring of a speaker, or securing a breakout session/workshop. Since you are the sole decision maker, the 20% publicist's fee can either be paid back to you, discounted off the final price, or be exchanged for merchandise related to the program. New clients only. Repeat clients can still receive an agent's fee of 15% for future events.
